Breakfast with Poetry (and music too)

Annual Benefit for Monterey Bay Zen Center

*First I went pursuing the fragrant grasses;
then I returned following the falling blossoms.*

Earthbound Farm Stand Carmel Valley July 13

MBZC's ninth annual Breakfast with Poetry is slated for Saturday, July 13 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon at Earthbound Farm Stand, 7250 Carmel Valley Road (3.5 miles east of Highway One).

Poets Elliot Ruchowitz-Roberts and Alice Tao will read poetry and commentary based upon the theme of "First I went pursuing the fragrant grasses; then I returned following the falling blossoms", a line from case thirty-six in the Blue Cliff Record (as translated by Cleary & Cleary). Music by flutist Elizabeth Todd has been added to this year's program.

The Earthbound Farm kitchen will provide a wonderful, organic breakfast before the reading.

Donation: $35 each adult -- $10 each child -- children under 6 are free.
